

Exploring Houston & Surrounding areas

A vibrant city with various and eclectic places to go and things to do, explore Houston via link below <http://www.houstontx.gov/about/houston/exploringhouston.html>

Downtown Houston – From Astros games at Minute Maid Park, Rockets games at Toyota Center, Texans Games at Reliant Park, or the Dynamo soccer games at BBVA Compass stadium, Houston has a wide variety of entertainment to offer. Fine Dining, Performing Arts, Museums, Nightclubs and Discovery Green for live music, movies, fitness, & seasonal ice skating.

Midtown – modern urban upscale dining, dancing, and live entertainment located just outside of downtown Houston.

The Heights – conveniently located just north of downtown, but still inside the 610 loop lies a historic area with bungalows, restored historic homes, and newly constructed homes for a growing population of young affluent professionals. Mainstream entertainment in a historic neighborhood environment.

River Oaks – one of Houston's first areas of affluent living where homes start in the millions. Known for the River Oaks Country Club and home of some of the wealthiest in Houston.

The Galleria – An upscale mixed-use urban development centrally located in the Uptown District of Houston, Texas, United States

The Woodlands – Upscale master planned community in an area designed to preserve nature. Over 100 miles of trails wind through tall trees, golf courses, lakes, schools, churches, parks, and contemporary urban retail, dining, and entertainment. Home of the Cynthia Woods Mitchell Pavillion offering live concerts and performing arts throughout the year.

Katy – Master planned communities in a suburban affluent area located on I-10W. From golf course communities in Cinco Ranch to contemporary urban life in City Centre, Katy has something for a variety of lifestyles.

Sugarland – located in Southwest Houston off of 59 South, Sugarland has grown to be another highly sought after location for families and young professionals.
